Dear Parents and Carers,

As our world becomes increasingly digital, ensuring our children navigate the online space safely and confidently has never been more vital. With this in mind, we are writing to let you know that our school will be participating in Safer Internet Day on Tuesday, 10th February.

This is an essential date in our school calendar, providing a dedicated opportunity to discuss the "growing need" for digital literacy and the steps we can all take to stay secure online.

What's happening in school?

We have a packed schedule designed to engage the children at every level:

- Themed Worship: Our whole-school worship will be centered around the theme of "Keeping Safe Online," exploring how we can be respectful, responsible, and resilient digital citizens.
- PCSO Workshops: We are delighted to welcome our local Police Community Support Officer (PCSO) into school. They will be leading specialised workshops focusing on real-world scenarios and how to make smart choices online.
- Specialised Lessons: Every class will participate in age-appropriate activities and discussions tailored to their year group's needs.

We are then inviting parents and carers to come into school on Thursday 12th February, from 2:15pm, to have the opportunity to see the work that the children will have been working so hard to produce.

How you can help at home

Education doesn't stop at the school gates. We encourage you to use next Safer Internet Day as a springboard for a conversation with your child about their digital life. Whether it's gaming, social media, or watching videos, simply asking "What's your favourite thing to do online?" can be a great way to start.

Remember that the internet is a brilliant tool for learning and play, but setting clear boundaries and keeping an open line of communication is the best way to keep our children safe.

We look forward to a productive and enlightening day for all our pupils, and to welcoming you on Thursday to share in our learning.

Warm regards,

Mrs Moran
Year 5 Teacher
